

The International Centre of Water-Environment for the Balkans. Having considered various suggestions for the official title of the regional network the participants agreed upon at the Advanced Research Workshop in Thessaloniki, it has finally been decided to use the above version. The addition of the hyphenated word environment both more clearly defines the breadth of the project's scope, and also, being an issue much in the public eye, will give the name more immediate impact. The acronym INWEB will be used for the network.
