

18th-21st August 2009. Incheon, Republic of Korea

The purpose of this forum is to create an international event that will discuss and offer solutions to the many water-related environmental issues that the world is currently facing, while also building up a global network that will be used to further the exchange of ideas and information.

<http://www.wcwr2009.org>